

William Dardis, SJ
60 Years as a Jesuit

I have been truly blessed in my vocation. Little did I know what a wonderful life I would have when I chose to be a Jesuit brother. The many friends I have made and blessings I have received are an unbelievable gift from the Lord above.

I have lived in a very great community. The Jesuits I have met and their assistance have given me the help needed to be on the path to be the man I believe God wants me to be. It has not always been easy, but their guidance along the way has prepared me for the joys and sorrow I have experienced. For all of the above, I am truly grateful.
